INTRODUCTION

Another milestone has been passed, and as a church we have entered into another year of activities. The Year Book is our statistical publication which records the progress of our church work from year to year. Once more we have gone through a mass of material to bring up to date the lists of conferences, boards, committees, missions, charitable institutions, and other church organizations, as well as the directory of names and addresses of bishops, ministers, and deacons. In total membership the change is not great. Some conferences showed decreases in membership; others made substantial gains. The total membership in United States, Canada, India, and South America, is 47,169, a gain over last year of 231.

Looking back over the year upon the work in general we have abundant reasons for praise and thanksgiving. We have gone through a very serious financial depression that has cut down very materially the income of thousands of our people. Yet in spite of that fact the contributions for mission and charitable purposes have increased $24,357.58, as the table printed on page 6 will show. Because the contributions kept up so well none of our work had to be curtailed. While it is true that no new missionaries have been sent to foreign fields, at the same time those whose furloughs expired were sent back to the work and our regular forces have been maintained. Considering the policy of retrenchment that many denominations have been forced to pursue we can indeed consider ourselves fortunate. The work of our Relief Committee in helping our persecuted Russian brethren to locate in South America has been a big undertaking, but has been accomplishing results in spite of hindrances.

Our schools, too, have in some measure felt the effects of the depressed economic conditions that are prevailing just now, and yet they have been able to go ahead with their schedules and programs. The home missions and charitable institutions have gone ahead in their accustomed work, for all of which we have great reason to praise the Lord. No new mission stations have been opened up that we know of, though a number of new mission Sunday schools have been begun. No doubt there have been advancements made along other lines that have had no special publicity. It is the long, steady pull that counts in mission work as in other things, and we feel sure that our missionaries both at home and abroad are faithfully laboring on in spite of adverse conditions at times, and that this kind of toil will bring results to the glory of God and the salvation of souls.

Our home churches and evangelists have been laboring on, and in many instances decided gains have been made for the kingdom. In the home church is where the strength of all our organized work lies. Unless the home congregations are built up and grow both in numbers and spirituality there can be no expansion in our organized work along any lines.

Again we present a number of articles giving a resume of the work that has been done along various lines—mission, educational, charitable, publication, relief, and other phases of activity. We trust these articles will be read, for they contain much information that is both interesting and useful. It shows what has been done in the past year. We thank God for these achievements, and may we all look forward to doing even greater things, under the blessing of God, during 1931.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES

By D. D. Miller

Under the blessings and providences of a kind heavenly Father the Mennonite Church has carried on organized Home and Foreign Mission work for a period of some thirty years. The work is conducted at present under the corporate name of "Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities." This Board, functioning under the supervision of the Mennonite General Conference, is composed of about fifty members chosen and elected as follows: 1. Three members elected by General Conference; 2. One member elected by each district conference under General Conference; 3. The chairman of each district mission board; 4. The chairman of the local board of each mission station and charitable institution under the Board in the homeland; 5. One member representing India and one representing South America; 6. Eight members at large—elected by the Board. At each Annual Board Meeting the aforementioned delegates organize and make general plans for the year. For this year we have the following committees: Executive Committee: President, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and fifth member; Mission Committee: President, secretary, and five others; Relief Committee: President, secretary, and three others; Home Mission Study Committee: Three members; Foreign Mission Study Committee: Three members; Sewing Circle Committee.

What is called the Great Commission is found in substance in all four Gospels, in the opening chapter of the Acts, and in a somewhat different form in a direct revelation to the Apostle Paul. One striking thing about this sixfold repetition is evidently to show what a large place the missionary program has in the redemptive plan of the New Testament.

Christ was a missionary. His message is missionary. His fundamental method of spreading the faith is personal testimony. This method will always be the central missionary method.

The book of Acts strikingly illustrates the fact that the whole church is a missionary organization. Cornelius was a man of prayer and good deeds. Acts 10:2. Barnabas, a companion and fellow missionary with Paul is an ideal worker. His biography is summed up in three phases in Acts 11:24: "He was a good man," he had character; "full of faith," he had a vital creed; "full of the Holy Spirit," he had a living experience. Any man who has these three qualifications is surely called of God to spread Christianity.

The transmission of the Christian message is the duty of all until all have heard. The command to carry the Gospel to all the world is every man's opportunity.

Three of the fundamental revelations of the Bible are: First, God; second, the tasks given to men; third, the character men must possess if they are to have fellowship with God and be equal to the accomplishments of their God given tasks.

The missionary commands of Christ stated in their logical order are:

"Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields"—study.

"Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest"—intercede.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel"—give and serve.

Then, if men will relate themselves to the whole task, in which each one can have a share a fourfold program is necessary.

1. A program of study—of the Word, the world, and the workman.

2. A program of finance—consecration of money.

3. A program of service—consecration of time and service.

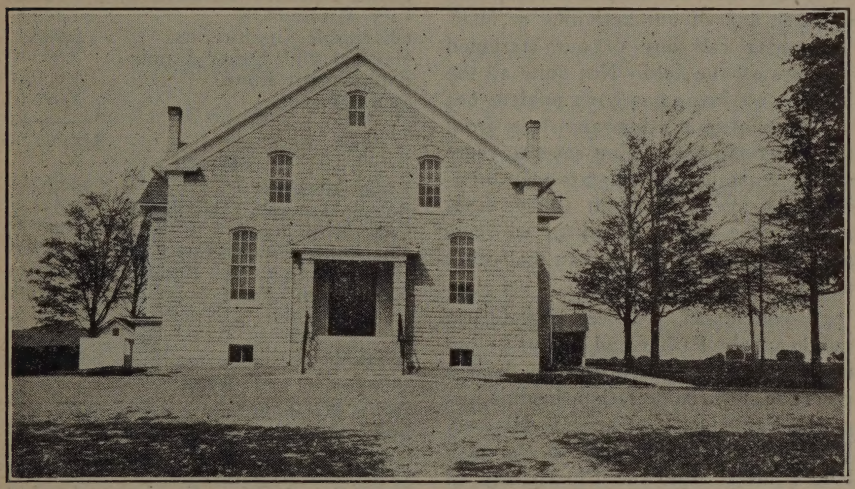
4. A program of intercession—which is the greatest human missionary force.

The immediate and urgent task of all Christians is the evangelization of the world. This means to give every person in the world an adequate opportunity to know and receive Jesus Christ as his or her personal Savior, not simply to give the message once in the hearing of all men, but instruction in the Gospel until man's need of Christ is made clear and an influence is brought to bear upon his will by the actual life of a living epistle so that an intelligent decision to accept and follow Christ is made possible. Then follows the permanent planting and indoctrinating of the Christian Church and Christian institutions, until the Church has reached the point where it is capable of governing and supporting itself and is become a new force in the evangelization of the world.

The last named stage of planting and indoctrinating and tutoring to become self-supporting and self-governing brings to us at this present time a number of problems, both in the home field and the foreign work. This is a joint task of the missionary and local church or institutions. The help from the home missionary base and missionary must decrease and the mobilization of the local forces must increase.

There has been a steady growth in the mission activities of our church from year to year. Each year, however, brings some new problems to be solved in the large field of activity—the world. The Church is not the field, but the force which the Lord would use to evangelize the world. It is the aim of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities to adjust its teachings and program of work so as to call out and utilize all of these spiritual forces and functions of the Church, to mobilize and organize the forces and work that every activity and every institution under the supervision of the Board may be an obedient response to the Great Commission given by the Master.



Beech Church, near Louisville, Ohio, where the Annual Mission Board Meeting was held May 1-6, 1930

The Board had its twenty-fourth Annual Meeting in May, 1930, near Canton, Ohio. Since that time four missionaries (home on furlough) have returned to India. Two missionaries from South America have come home for their furlough since our Board meeting. No new missionaries were sent to the foreign field this year.

Some changes in mission superintendents at several places were made. A new field of activity was opened in the West Virginia mountains. A general financial depression, which affects the whole world, and a drought, which affected a large part of our constituency, have been felt in the financial program of the Board. While some of our building budgets had to be reduced and some building plans eliminated or postponed we are very glad to report that we were not compelled to close any of our activities or institutions or call any of our stationed workers off the field. Not quite all the interest on loans has been paid in but we are not expecting any loss from these investments. For several years our increase in endowments and annuities has averaged about thirty thousand a year—this year so far we have already received more than half that amount.

In conclusion, we feel grateful to our heavenly Father and to our beloved Mennonite Church for the hearty response and coöperation in this organized effort in obedience to His call. Is my Christianity equal to the task before me? Will the Christianity of the Mennonite Church go to the limit of true devotion to the plans of Christ our Savior? As we think of the task before us let us remember the measureless resources of our Father in heaven. He alone is sufficient for these things. Accepting, then, the great opportunity with an unshaken confidence in Him and His cause let each one of us joyously put our hands between the Father's great and loving hands and follow Him forever.

ACTIVITIES OF EASTERN MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES DURING 1930

By Henry F. Garber

The year 1930 witnessed a further expansion in the number of missions under the care of the Eastern Board. The new Sunday school mission at Coatesville was taken over at the request of the workers there. The workers there are supplied by the brotherhood from the Millwood and Maple Grove congregations. No permanent meeting place for this work has yet been found.

The Strasburg and Willow Street congregations are providing the workers and finances for a new Sunday school mission at Sunny Side, just south of Lancaster. The workers here are much encouraged.

During the year the Lord took home one of our city missionaries, the wife of Bro. David Groff, superintendent of the Columbia Mission. This brought about some changes. We now have two sisters serving full time at Marietta Mission as well as two at Columbia.

Altogether the mission stations and preaching points now number fifteen, an increase of one during the year.

May we continue to enter these open doors as they appear before us.

Another major undertaking was the help given to our unfortunate Russian brethren in their migration to Paraguay. Our hearts were touched by the appeal. When the call came for new and used clothing to send to Paraguay the brotherhood came forward with 137 bales of clothing, about five tons, and many bags of shoes. And in spite of unemployment, drought, and low prices there was forwarded for this movement about $24,000.00 in cash. Such was the response when human need was apparent.

To some of us the outstanding event of the year took place at Slate Hill in Cumberland Co., on December 4. At that time Bro. Chester Harbold was ordained for the ministry to serve at our Tampa, Florida, Mission. The church was built in Tampa in 1929 and a mission home beside the church purchased in the same year. There are more than thirty members there, but until now there was no resident minister for this place. At different times Bro. Noah Mack and Bro. John Senger shepherded this little flock. Under the direction of our Lancaster Conference Bishop Board the foregoing action was taken and we pray that the Lord's blessing may attend this work.

To ordain a brother for the ministry to serve in our mission stations away from home is a new step for Lancaster Conference, but under the guidance of the Holy Spirit we pray that this new step may not remain new. And as new doors for service open and men are needed, we believe that under the direction of the Church they will be found and sent.

Salt, so needful, so wholesome, yet it is to be wisely used. Salt discreetly sprinkled over all the common dishes of life, giving all things a savor and sweetness,—this our Master seeks to make us!—Mark Guy Pearse.

MOST IMPORTANT EVENTS AND DEVELOPMENTS IN THE INDIA MISSION DURING THE YEAR

By J. N. Kaufman

As we come to the end of a year's work it is well to ask ourselves what has been accomplished and whether or not our efforts have been worth while. This is necessary so that we may ascertain, as far as may be, if we are pursuing the work on right lines. Properly to evaluate the various attempts and their consequent results is not so easy, for it may easily be that what we consider of great importance may, in the sight of God, be the least significant.

It is the striking things and the results of our efforts which are most apparent with which we are impressed the most. The results of steady routine work in the orphanages and schools, while giving us joy in the fine lives of the boys and girls, are not really apparent for years to come. It takes patience and faith of a high order to keep on preaching the Gospel in the villages through regular daily visits or through periodical tours whose fruit is often not seen for many years. These daily and periodical efforts may even prove the most significant for this year as revealed in future years, but we can not be sure now.

Among the outstanding events of the year, viewed from the number of people ultimately affected may be noted the following:

1. In the beginning of the year the revised Rules and Discipline of the India Mennonite Church were finally adopted by the Conference. Space will not permit the reproduction here of the entire document, although it is not very long, though it would be good to have it translated into English and have it published. The original was printed several times in the annual reports and in the Herald and the revised rules follow very closely the original. Changes in the revised are noted below.

Rules.

(a) Membership of Conference.—The old rules provided that all missionaries, all ordained Indians, and specially elected lay delegates were members of conference. The new rules confine missionary membership of conference to those who are ordained only.

Discipline.

(a) The new rules provide for the number of bishops as follows: One bishop for every one thousand members or for every three congregations or fraction of either.

(b) Pastors.—The local congregations have the authority to choose their own pastors from among the ordained ministers residing within the precincts of the congregation. (Although this provision was not contained in the old constitutions yet in practice it had been done for a number of years.)

(c) Authority.—The authority to baptize converts and to admit them to church fellowship or to excommunicate recalcitrant members has been extended to the pastor who has been made largely responsible for the welfare of the congregation. Some of us were loath to see this provision carry in the Conference as we felt that this authority should rest with the bishop only, but after a year of pastoral experience under the revised constitution the present writer feels that this plan does not after all detract from the authority of the bishop, who is consulted in all cases. In practice it has also worked out that the bishop is urged to perform these ceremonies and to attend to all such official matters.

(d) Church Council.—The revised rules provide for a church council, consisting of the bishops, ministers, and deacons of the congregation, besides at least five lay members elected by the congregation, who act in consultation in all congregational matters.

(e) Close Communion.—The question of close and open communion received considerable discussion. Some of the Indian brethren took the view that this restriction should be removed in the interests of those who are obliged to be away in school or special training whose absence from their home church is often extended to the greater part of a year at a time, and who worship in other churches while away from home. The Conference decided that we could not give up the principle of close communion and in cases such as mentioned above, if there are any exceptions the matter must have the sanction of the church council.

(f) Burial ceremonies for excommunicated members. The burial of excommunicated members is allowed, but not according to the usual ceremonies.

(g) Going to law.—The problem of going to law presented some difficulties, some contending that it should not be prohibited under all circumstances. Provisions are now made that if any members have any such problems no action can be taken without bringing the matter to the church council for sanction.

(h) Life Insurance.—A strong plea was made by some of the Indian brethren for life insurance and it was as strongly opposed by the missionaries. The result of the discussion was that the same prohibition is written in the revised as was in the old. But what shall be done for those who wish to make provisions for their families when old age overtakes them? We missionaries promised to explore the possibilities of a provident fund for their benefit. This has been done and will be found below.

The above are the only changes. Desire was expressed to remain as closely as possible to the teachings of the Scripture.

2. Another important development during the year was the introduction of a Provident Fund for the benefit of our Indian brethren. It will be clear what is meant by reading the provisions of the Provident Fund as given.

I. Name

The Fund shall be named the Mennonite Mission Provident Fund.

II. Object

The object of the Mennonite Mission Provident Fund shall be to provide for hardship in case of incapacity to continue service on account of sickness, old age, or other disability.

III. Organization

1. A Provident Fund Committee shall be organized, consisting of five members of which the Treasurer of the American Mennonite Mission shall be member ex-officio and chairman, two members to be elected annually by the Managing Committee of the Mission, and two members to be elected by the Church Conference.

2. The function of the Committee shall be to decide on all matters having to do with withdrawal and foreclosure of individual accounts as well as decide when an applicant may begin to deposit.

3. The chairman of the M. M. P. F. Committee shall be the administrator of the fund for the depositors.

IV. Bank

1. The Post Office Savings Bank shall be the bank recognized for the purposes of this fund.

2. The Post Office Savings Bank shall be requested to open individual accounts for all depositors.

V. Who May Deposit

1. Deposits in this fund are compulsory for all Christian workers including school teachers. All other employees or personal servants of members of the India Mennonite Church may become depositors provided all conditions are fulfilled.

2. Only persons who have given at least one year of continuous service may become depositors to this fund.

VI. Rate of Deposit

1. The depositor shall contribute monthly one anna per rupee of his salary.

2. The employer's contribution shall be an amount equal to half the depositor's contribution.

VII. Conditions of Withdrawal

1. The Government rules shall be followed regarding the forfeiting of the employer's share at the time of withdrawal, the final decision to rest with the M. M. P. F. Committee.

2. In case of the discontinuance of service for reasons other than the declared object of the Provident Fund, the depositor shall be in no case permitted to withdraw his account until after one full year has elapsed.

VIII. Responsibility

1. The responsibility for the eventuality of the money deposited in the Postal Savings Bank rests finally with the government.

IX. Miscellaneous

1. The employer's contribution to the Provident Fund shall be charged to the account from which the depositor's salary is paid.

2. The Provident Fund shall be considered in effect as of January 1st, 1930.

This scheme has been adopted by the Mission and will be brought before the Conference which is likely to accept it as it stands since the Conference-appointed committee to study this problem have concurred in its main provisions.

3. Another matter of perhaps far-reaching importance was decided in our last annual business meeting. As had been reported before, the Mission had appointed a committee to study the problem of giving more responsibility to our Indian brethren. A plan had been put into effect which was to be tried for three years at the end of which the question was to be reconsidered. The three years have expired and the Continuation Committee, which was to make recommendations regarding the matter, presented plans which were considered at the last business meeting. The following scheme was adopted by the Mission. It will have to be brought before the Conference for its approval and if approved it will be put into effect at once.

1. Within the area of the American Mennonite Mission an organization shall be effected which shall be called the Evangelistic Samaj (Board) which shall consist of both Indians and missionaries—an equal number of each.

2. The Evangelistic Samaj shall carry on all the evangelistic work at present carried on by the Mission and by the India Mennonite Church.

3. The membership of the Evangelistic Samaj shall be composed as follows: Conference shall choose one representative from each congregation and the Mission shall choose missionaries in number equal to the number of conference representatives.

4. The Evangelistic Samaj shall elect an Executive Committee of six members, three of whom shall be Indians and three missionaries.

5. The Evangelistic Samaj shall elect its officers from among the Executive Committee. The officers to be Chairman, Vice-chairman, and Secretary-Treasurer.

6. Funds for the work of the Evangelistic Samaj shall come from the Mission and the Church. All the money usually budgeted by the Mission for its evangelistic work, less the amount usually called "general," shall be paid over to this Board. Similarly, all the contributions usually made by the several congregations for Home Mission work, whether quarterly or Thanksgiving offerings, shall be paid over to this Board.

7. Any workers' houses, already constructed, or which may be constructed in the future, together with the land on which they stand, shall be considered the property of the American Mennonite Mission.

8. Building and repair funds shall be in the hands of the Evangelistic Samaj which shall use such funds as designated. In addition a "miscellaneous fund" shall be provided the money to be used as designated by the Samaj.

9. Vouchers submitted by the Samaj either to the Mission or to the Conference for drawing money to be charged against the Samaj's budget shall not be honored unless signed by the Secretary-Treasurer and countersigned by the Chairman. No money can be drawn except by voucher.

In passing a resolution adopting the above scheme the Business Meeting provided "that the scheme be reconsidered after three years of careful trial with a view to continuing the scheme if satisfactory to both Church and Mission; and, if continued after three years' trial, it be understood that increasingly larger offerings come from the India Mennonite Church as the Mission's grants gradually decrease. This not to be interpreted to mean that the Mission grants, under necessity, may not be decreased within the three-year period."

We believe that this scheme will enable our Indian brethren to assume a fuller share of the responsibility of both administration and finance.

4. Another development which has been finally adopted during the year, and which is to go into effect by the middle of 1931, is the Academy plan for our higher education. At present the Anglo-Vernacular Middle School and the High School are one school. The Academy plan will separate these two schools and then combine the High School with the Bible School and the Normal School, making what we are calling the Academy. Plans are under way for purchasing the land and constructing the necessary buildings.

Other important matters have developed but mention of the above four will suffice for the purposes of this article. We are conscious that no plan or scheme will function without the blessings of God and the power of the Holy Spirit. We pray that God may honor these efforts in behalf of His kingdom.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN MENNONITE MISSION WORK DURING 1930

By D. Parke Lantz

It has been difficult to make a selection from the reports that have come to hand. All speak of blessings received and there is a strain of thanksgiving running through all of them for the way that God is leading us on in His work.

In some of the churches severe measures were taken with offending members, resulting in a deeper consecration and a greater desire for a godly life in the rest. We have enjoyed a year of internal peace and blessings as well as gaining some victories. The young people have been a source of inspiration, taking part in the prayer meetings and Bible study classes, in the branch Sunday schools, and in tract distribution whenever possible.

Six Bible School students finished the year's work. Two graduated and the rest are first and second year students. They all do practical work and some take their turns at preaching in the branch halls. All receive some support either directly or indirectly from the Mission. There are other candidates for the School for next year but their support is a big problem for us as there is hardly any work that they could do after school hours or at night. The missionaries are praying and working to provide some means of livelihood for the students while they are studying and otherwise preparing themselves for practical Christian evangelistic work.

The Daily Vacation Bible Schools serve the double purpose of giving the regular Daily Vacation Bible School Course to several hundred children and at the same time preparing a little Christmas program which we give every year. It is a month of hard work for the missionaries and their helpers, but we always feel quite well repaid when it is all over.

The Visitation Work with the Bible Readers has proved to be a blessing to many women who, for various reasons, are not able or are not allowed to attend the meetings at the Mission Halls, but who have heard the Gospel Story and have accepted it. We are glad for the personal contact with the people in their own homes and have had many encouraging experiences in this part of the work.

In the Children's Home managed by the Snyders in Trenque Lauquen there were some changes made in helpers. Anita Cavadore who rendered nine years of service in Trenque Lauquen was allowed by the Conference to work in Pehuajo, her home town, for this year, and another Pehuajo girl, Laura Riva, was taken.

Their eldest "daughter" in the Home went to Pehuajo to Normal School, staying with the Shanks and doing a little work to help pay for some of the sacrifices they are making for her. The rest of the children are in the kindergarten or the grade schools. Fortunately there was very little sickness at the Home. There was one definite case of scarlet fever with symptoms of diphtheria which received very gracious attention in the City Hospital.

In October one boy was taken out of the Home by his mother, thus leaving our present number of boys at eight and the girls at eleven, a total of nineteen, for which we ask your prayers.

The work of the Printing Press has been going on as fast as funds have allowed. 22,500 of the True Way in Spanish (Camino Verdadero) have been printed every month during the year, also Young People's Meetings Booklets, notices, tracts, and various leaflets, which have helped to keep T. K. and Lester Hershey more than on the jump sometimes.

Auto Bible Coach in Santa Rosa, Argentina

The Auto Bible Coach was not used last winter except in the large towns as the country roads are almost impassable when it rains. We do not have any paved roads as yet in our district. Early in the spring it was taken out and used in the opening of the work in 30 de Agosto, which is now being supplied from Pehuajo. It has since then been traveling in Pellegrini, La Zanja, Fortin, America, Meridiano Quinto, and Pehuajo. Many thousands of tracts have been distributed, hundreds of Bibles, Testaments, and Gospels, sold or given away, and many religious books have found their way into homes of believers. Also many country people have had an opportunity to secure a Bible or some good religious book like Pilgrim's Progress and biographies of noted men.

The Million Testament Campaign among Spanish speaking peoples has aroused a great deal of interest among believers and unbelievers. The believer has had an opportunity to help spread the Gospel message among friends and relatives through giving away the Testaments and explaining the way of salvation. This year we gave away over 1000 and there are 4000 more coming for 1931. A greater zeal than ever before has been awakened for the salvation of the lost.

The New Converts have given inspiration to the members. A larger number than usual have manifested a desire to accept Christ and follow Him all the way. There has been an increase of members all along the line, for which we praise the Lord, and we ask your prayers that they may be faithful witnesses.

The Native Workers have done very well during the year, and we are looking forward to a busy year in 1931 with special evangelistic campaigns in all our churches and in as many towns as we can arrange for with the means on hand.

The Building Committee has been busy during the year with the new house in Pehuajo, which at this date is about ready to be occupied. There is a need for a Mission Chapel and Home in Bragado, which we believe will be met during 1931 as some contributions have already been sent in toward the purchase of a lot and the building of the same which has been budgeted at $8,000.

There is a scarcity of workers just now and we ask you to pray that God's will may be done in sending new ones to the field and returning those who have gone home on furlough during these past years.

MENNONITE HOSPITAL AND SANITARIUM

By Allen H. Erb

The Mennonite Hospital and Sanitarium is a general hospital equipped to treat all general medical and surgical diseases, with a department equipped for the treatment of tuberculosis. It is located at La Junta, Colorado, a prosperous railroad town in the heart of the Colorado section of the Arkansas Valley. Here the sun shines almost every day in the year. The altitude is 4000 feet above sea level. This is the only hospital in America under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. It had its beginning as a Sanitarium in the year 1908. There was a steady development till a change was justified and April 17, 1928, a new set of buildings within the city limits of La Junta was dedicated. These buildings were built at a total cost of $169,793.82. The building which houses the tuberculosis patients is entirely separate from the main building, but operated under the same unit with the General Hospital.

A brief survey of the work of the past year may be of interest. The figures used will be based on the report of the last fiscal year, closing March 31, 1930.

It will be observed from this report that 1123 patients were admitted during the year, quite a large group of sick folks. This is approximately 1/7 of the population of La Junta. Since this is the only standard hospital for a large area contiguous to La Junta we have drawn from all this section for this number. Can the Church picture this crowd of folk waiting for their tender ministry? From the above statistics we learn also that the average stay of each of these patients in the hospital was 15.8 days. Therefore 1123 people were in direct touch with the ministry of the Church for 15.8 days each. What an opportunity for service!

Consistent with the missionary purposes of the Church we are carrying on a program of direct evangelism. As much as possible every patient receives the Word of God through daily reading of the Bible and prayer. During the past year 4632 efforts were recorded of bedside reading of the Scriptures and prayer. Every Sunday morning the Sunday school lesson is recited with those who wish to attend. This Sunday school hour is followed by preaching. As a result of these efforts there were 7 confessions of Christ. We hear repeatedly the expression, "I never heard of the Mennonites until I came to your hospital." The impressions gained here are then the ideals of our church in the lives of those whom we have been able to influence.

To maintain this work entails the expenditure of considerable money. The operation and maintenance of the hospital is a business in itself. The total disbursements for the year were $59,900.55. The biggest item of expense was food. This alone amounted to $14,482.57. The total number of meals served was 86012, making an average cost of food per meal .17. To meet these expenses we have three sources of revenue: Hospital fees, a limited endowment, and freewill offerings. Hospital fees are set at a rate to meet operation costs and if all who were sick were able and willing to pay the financial problem would be solved. But this is not the condition. Our total amount of charity service for the year amounted to $11,691.84. In addition to this there were ledger accounts carried on the books which it will be impossible to collect. Just here you may inquire, "Why do you accept accounts which are not good?" The answer is that a hospital is not a pure business endeavor but an effort in philanthropy. If a man steps into a hardware store to buy a knife you can justly turn him away if he has no money, but if he comes to the hospital door as a sick man, Christian mercy can not close the door.

To meet this large charity demand we have then two sources of revenue, endowment and freewill offerings. The endowment consists of a business building in La Junta, investment funds given by a deceased citizen of La Junta, and a farm donated by the Church. The total net revenue from these sources is about $3,000.00 annually. Freewill offerings are negligible. For some reason our Church has little conscience of their responsibility to contribute to the care of the sick in this public way. Our local sick in and near our congregations are helped, but certainly a large service could be rendered if our service could also be concentrated in an institutional effort for the public.

Our hospital workers by a sacrifice in salaries donated $7,680.00 to charity this year. Since these were members of the Church this is literally the contribution of the Church. But should this burden be borne by just a few?

Our Nurses' Training School graduated a class of 14 nurses this year. This is the largest class that ever completed their work here. The total number of nurses in training now, December 31, 1930, is thirty-six.

What is the prospect for the future? Already our tuberculosis building is too small. This building was designed so that one unit is built now and another is to be added later. We should add this now, but the frequent phrase, "no funds," is sufficient explanation. We have a total indebtedness on the present buildings of $28,490.06. These are a few of the obstacles before us for the future. On the other side there is the pressing cry of the sick who need ministry. In the face of no visible resources Jesus said to the disciples, "Give ye them to eat." It was theirs to dispense that which He supplied. This was the step of faith which brought food to the multitude. If the Church will step out by faith and measure her resources, in God she shall triumph in this work.

THE MOVEMENT OF RUSSIAN MENNONITES FROM GERMANY TO PARAGUAY

By Levi Mumaw

According to a special action taken by the Executive Committee of the Mennonite Central Committee, a brief report of the activities of the Committee during the past year is hereby submitted for use in the Year Books of the coöperating Mennonite organizations.

The Mennonite Central Committee was organized September 27, 1920, for the purpose of acting for and with the several Mennonite Relief Committees in the direction of a joint relief work to be carried on in South Russia. This work was undertaken promptly and the activities of the committee and final report have been published in a book called "Feeding the Hungry," which is now on sale at all Mennonite bookstores.

The work of extending relief had been practically closed for several years, but the Committee continued to function as not all reports had been finally audited and closed. In the fall of 1929 a new emergency arose through the sudden rise of an extensive effort on the part of Russian Mennonites to migrate from Russia. Numerous reports were published in American newspapers regarding this effort. Letters from individuals in Russia reached friends in America telling of large groups of Mennonites being assembled at Moscow with the purpose of migrating to Canada as soon as visas could be obtained from the Soviet Government.

On receipt of this information, the different relief organizations became alarmed at once, fearing a general catastrophe in not being able to take care of the refugees if they were permitted to leave Russia. The Canadian Mennonite Colonization Board, having a representative in Germany, was the first organization to take definite steps for relief. Through a contact with the German government, a credit was secured to the extent of 6,000,000 Reich marks, if necessary, for the purpose of caring for the refugees as they reached Germany and to finance their transportation when necessary to overseas countries, if it should not be possible for all to go to Canada, their desired haven.

As these negotiations were being made, increased interest was aroused in this country. The Executive Committee of the Mennonite Central Committee held a meeting on November 27, 1929, at which time it was decided to call a special meeting of the entire Committee and others who might be interested, at Chicago, December 14, 1929. A representative group met at 2812 Lincoln Avenue on this date. The various reports concerning the great need of the refugees who had now come to Germany, as well as those who were not permitted to migrate, was brought to the attention of the meeting. After due consideration, it was decided to appoint a Study Committee to make further investigations regarding the need and the possibility of bringing relief.

Under date of January 18, 1930, the Executive Committee of the Mennonite Central Committee held a meeting in Philadelphia for the purpose of hearing a report from the Study Committee appointed at the Chicago meeting. The Committee, consisting of P. C. Hiebert, M. H. Kratz and H. S. Bender, gave a detailed report of its findings and urged that some steps be taken to organize for definite action. It was decided accordingly to call a meeting of Representative Mennonites for this purpose January 25, 1930, at Elkhart, Ind. The Study Committee was instructed to continue its work and to bring a final report to that meeting.

The meeting was held on the date selected with a full representation of those who had been invited to attend. By this time, full reports had been received from Germany as to the number of refugees that had reached that country from Moscow. It was reported that about 3700 Mennonites were awaiting an opportunity to find a new home. Their desire was to go to Canada, but the Canadian Government refused them admittance before Spring. The Study Committee reported on this condition and also advised that the German Government was urging that the emigration overseas be started immediately where possible. Previous reports from B. H. Unruh in Germany indicated that a German organization, Hanseatische Kolonisations-Gesellschaft of Hamburg, Germany, was undertaking the movement of the refugees to Brazil. In view of this, protests were made by different Mennonite groups in this country. It was feared that those who would be able to go to Canada later would be influenced to go to Brazil because of this opportunity. The prospects for colonization in Brazil were seriously questioned by those who had been informed of the conditions in the section offered for colonization as well as the well-known attitude by the Brazilian Government on compulsory military service.

The Study Committee reported that according to cables from Bro. Unruh, it would be possible to divert this movement if action were taken at once. Through contacts with the Corporacion Paraguaya, Philadelphia, Pa., the organization that had assisted the Canadian Mennonite movement to Paraguay several years ago, it was found possible to have these refugees go to Paraguay instead of Brazil. Here they would enjoy the same exemption from military service as granted to the Canadian Mennonites. It was also reported that certain concessions would be granted to these refugees by way of credit for land, equipment, etc., provided the Mennonites of America would raise certain funds to aid in the purchase of equipment and for their maintenance until they could raise their own food products.

After due consideration to the report of the committee, action was taken by the meeting authorizing the Mennonite Central Committee to undertake the movement of one hundred families to Paraguay. It was estimated that it would require $100,000.00 to accomplish this, to which the Corporacion Paraguaya would add $20,000-.00, the whole amount to be used for the purpose of purchasing equipment and providing maintenance on a loan basis. In connection with this the German Government agreed to extend credit for transportation to Paraguay from Germany.

The work was undertaken at once. H. S. Bender, Goshen, Ind., was sent to Germany to arrange for the purchase of certain equipment and for the transportation, etc. G. G. Hiebert, Reedley, Calif., was sent to Paraguay to assist the refugees in their task of settling on the land. Only those who could not qualify for the physical examinations to enter Canada and who chose of their own free will to go to Paraguay were accepted. It was soon learned that there would be about two hundred families making request for Paraguay. Certain grants were secured in Paraguay for live stock on credit. A considerable saving was effected in the purchase of the equipment in Germany. As a result of these considerations, it was found possible to accept the applications of the two hundred families. These were moved in three transports during the months of April, May, and June. In addition to these another request was received for permission to send sixty families more, or a fourth transport. Through a special arrangement it was found possible to give these permission to sail in July. On this same special arrangement another group of thirty families, which will possibly close the work for this year, was given permission to sail in September. About $80,000.00 has been contributed for this work. It is estimated that at least $50,000.00 more will be needed.

According to recent cable reports, the colonists are working hard in their effort to establish their new homes. The land must be brought under cultivation and temporary shelter must be provided for the families. The prospects for raising crops are very encouraging. The climate is semitropical, with no winter season. Certain crops can be rotated during each season while watermelons may be planted throughout the year following the rains. Cotton promises to be the most stable crop. The land is fertile and easily cultivated after being cleared of roots, etc., in the open fields and the timber is taken from the wooded sections. But with these advantages, there are also certain difficulties which must be overcome. It will also be necessary to practice self-denial by way of using only sparingly some of the most common food, such as meats and bread. These are substituted by native grown products which can be produced very easily.

GOSHEN COLLEGE

By Silas Hertzler

During the school year ending June 4, 1930, the Goshen College enrollment reached a grand total of 324. Of this number 247 were college students; 55 were academy students; and 22 were special Bible term students. The number completing the four-year academy course totaled 13. Bachelor's degrees were conferred upon thirty-five men and women: five received bachelor of science degrees, with major in home economics; six received bachelor of science in education degrees; twenty-four were granted the academic degree of bachelor of arts.

The number of students taking Bible subjects as a part of their regular college course always has been large. During the past year, for instance, thirteen courses were offered by our Bible department. Following are given the names of the Bible subjects taught with the number of students in each course:

201 Old Testament History	29
203 Elementary New Testament Greek	2
303 Intermediate New Testament Greek	5
303 Gospel of John	14
401 Life of Christ	14
403 Pauline Epistles	4
202 Old Testament History	29
204 Elementary New Testament Greek	2
301 Religious Education	12
304 Intermediate New Testament Greek	5
304 General Epistles	11
402 Life of Christ	7
402 Teaching of Jesus	8

In addition to the thirteen college Bible courses twenty-seven students were enrolled in the six-weeks special Bible term. Two Bible courses also were offered throughout the year in the academy.

During the regular school year 38½ per cent of the full-time Mennonite students were enrolled in one or more Bible classes. Two of the college graduates majored in Bible. There was one graduate of the two-year diploma course in Bible. In addition two of the thirteen graduates of the academy completed the Bible academy course. All students are required to take six semester hours of Bible before graduating from college.

The Mennonites in the student body, as one should expect, far outnumbered all others, for two hundred forty out of the total were members of some branch of the Mennonite Church. Mennonite students came from fifteen states and provinces, together with representatives from our mission fields in Argentina and in India. During the regular school year seventy-four per cent of the students were Mennonites. The proportion of Mennonites in the summer session was not so large.

The college has completed a rather extensive building program during the last two years. East Hall, the former dormitory for men, had served as the home for men students ever since the building was constructed in 1903. During the summer of 1929 this building was completely remodeled, painted, decorated and partly furnished, and has become in the process the Goshen College apartments. At the present time (December 29, 1930) four of the six families at home in these modern four-room apartments are faculty members who might otherwise have to go to a considerable distance from the campus to find suitable homes.

Coffman Hall, the present home for men students, was erected during the spring and summer of 1929, at an expense of $41,292.84. The structure is of brick and tile, 58 feet by 86 feet, is well equipped and will comfortably house 104 students. Though it is not filled at the present time, it was built with the idea of caring for an increased attendance in the near future.

The new Kulp Hall was completed in September, 1930, at an expense of $42,179.84, and also will comfortably care for about 100 women students.

This building is of brick veneer. The main part of the building faces the east, and is 42 feet by 86 feet. There are two additional wings to the north and to the south of the main portion of the building. Each of these is 24 feet by 26 feet.

The faculty for the year 1929-30 was composed of twenty regular full-time instructors, all of whom are members of the Mennonite Church. Besides this number there were several additional part-time instructors for various special lines of work, such as art and music.

During the year 1929-30, the department of economics and commerce was greatly strengthened through the fact that Roland Yoder was brought into the institution. Sufficient work is offered in this field to enable a student who wishes to go into business, to be adequately prepared for such work. A college major, for the B. A. degree, may now be taken in economics and commerce.

The Mennonite Quarterly Review published by Goshen College, which completed its fourth year, with the October, 1930, issue, is rendering a distinct service to the Mennonite Church. One great contribution has been the preserving and interpreting of various aspects of Mennonite faith and life through its emphasis on Mennonite church history.

The Mennonite Historical Society of Goshen College has been instrumental in bringing together a collection of approximately 3,000 volumes of books and pamphlets on Mennonite history. This number includes about 1,200 duplicates. The latest addition of consequence to this collection was the remnant of books, papers, and pamphlets, still remaining in the John F. Funk library at his death in Elkhart, Indiana, on January 8, 1930. This material is of great value because of the fact that Bro. Funk did so much to promote the welfare of the Church through his work as editor and publisher of the HERALD OF TRUTH for many years, beginning in 1864. Until the beginning of the work of the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, in April, 1908, the publication and editorial work of Bro. Funk had been almost the only work of this kind carried on anywhere in the church. For purposes of research in early Mennonite history the Mennonite historical library of Goshen College contains much priceless material, some of which it is difficult to duplicate elsewhere.

Financially there has been progress during the past year. One great need of Goshen College is the adequate financial support which the Mennonite Church can give. During the past year C. L. Graber, who for three years has been endowment director for the Mennonite Board of Education, was elected assistant treasurer of the Board. He has been given an office in the Mission Building, 1711 Prairie Street, Elkhart, Ind., and is in general charge of all details concerning the financial matters of the Board. The invested endowment producing income for Goshen College at the present time is $80,000.00. In order to satisfy the financial needs of our college this must be substantially increased as soon as possible.

Ever since Goshen College was founded as Elkhart Institute, in 1894, the preparation of Christian teachers for work in Mennonite communities has been one of its opportunities for service. This policy has been followed consistently. For several years in the immediate part it has been evident that numerous Mennonite students go to various state normal schools in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, and other states, to secure the training needed for teachers in the public elementary schools. The College has always done some work of this kind, but since 1926 the amount and character of the training for elementary school teachers has been inadequate. Plans are under way now by which an attempt is being made to secure the equipment and faculty needed in order to do much more extensive work in this field. The administrative officers of the College hope that this new venture may also be adequately supported by those wishing to prepare for such service.

HESSTON COLLEGE AND BIBLE SCHOOL

By Edward Yoder

For more than two decades Hesston College and Bible School has been used of God in a small way to build up His kingdom, to bring numbers of young people to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ, to lead many more into the Spirit-filled and Spirit-led life of consecration, and to prepare hundreds of youth for useful service in society and in the Church. As in all the work in which fallible human effort has a part, there have been failures along with the successes and the victories won. If only God's Spirit could always have opportunity to guide His children into all the truth, how much greater might be the triumphs of God's truth! We praise God for the rich blessings that the school has experienced through these years. The Word of God has become precious to many students and teachers alike. It has been felt to be that which gives spiritual life and strength. There has been a desire and a willingness to minister this Word to others as there has been opportunity for those who have gone out into life's work.

Jesus Christ taught that men and women are made free by knowing the truth as it is in Himself. It is by abiding in Christ's Word that men know the truth. Only in Christ can we know the truth about God, the truth about life and its meaning, the truth about ourselves and about human destiny. It is not mere knowledge that makes men free, but it is the truth. Knowledge, facts, information, intellectual efforts of every sort are sanctified and become truth only as they are correlated with the Word of Christ, only as they are seen in the perspective of Christ who is "the way, the truth, and the life."

In order to know the truth, there must be honesty of desire and purpose. Sincerity, integrity of heart and of life, in other words, the truth must needs be treasured above all worldly things. "Buy the truth, and sell it not." Not reputation, not gain or position, not influence dare be bought at the price of truth. There is perhaps no deception so insidious, so damaging as self-deception. It is so very easy and so natural to feel that one is following the truth while being misled by the prejudices and devices of one's own mind. Or we may conceive ourselves to be following the truth when we are thinking and doing the same things as our friends and neighbors, or when we move in the direction in which the breeze of popular opinion may be blowing for the time being. The truth as it is in Christ sets men and women free from all the forms of self-delusion.

In school many young people decide upon their life work. The school has a responsibility in helping youth to invest their lives for the cause of the truth as it is in Christ. Jesus Christ taught that life, with all its strength and possibilities, is a sacred trust for the use of which the individual will be held accountable to his Lord. Careless and idle failure to cultivate the talents and abilities which the Creator has given is to make as serious a mistake as to devote them to evil purposes after they have been developed. The training received in a Christian school leads many young people to devote their life activities to the cause of Christ and the truth. Whatever the particular kind of legitimate work which the Christian student takes up, he is challenged with the call of his Master to make his influence and his testimony, directly or indirectly, count for the truth that makes us free.

The Christian school must ever lay emphasis upon the spiritual life and its ideals. Such an emphasis is especially needful in this day when the prevailing philosophy and the dominant thought patterns are frankly materialistic. Where the mass of students are taught to see only matter, energy, and physical law, the Christian student is taught to see these things as a part of a larger scheme; he comes to see spiritual truth as he comprehends the truth as it is in Christ. The spiritual life cannot be dealt with as an isolated and separate compartment of life, but must be regarded as basic to all of life. It is the matrix in which intellectual, moral, social, and physical activities are imbedded, the very warp upon which the woof of life's varied activities is being woven.

The spiritual outlook, the vision that sees beyond external matter and its forms, presupposes the conversion of the individual. A new life must animate the soul with the necessary adjustments of heart, mind, and will to the realities of spiritual things. The power and strength of a life of obedience to God, the joy and peace that comes when the individual surrenders his life into the hands of the consummate Master, these are experiences that can become the possession of every person. To lead young people into these experiences is the highest aim of the Christian teacher. The school cherishes the opportunity to help young people into the fullest realization of the Spirit-filled life as well as to aid them in intellectual development.

But the attainment of the Christian student is not to be limited to one course of study or to one taste of spiritual things. The school must make sure that he has learned the principles of Christian growth. At the most he will spend only a few years in the comparatively sheltered atmosphere of the school. He needs to enter upon the limitless possibilities that exist for continued spiritual growth and mental development. "Grow in grace and in knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." The life of faith, walking by faith, has a beauty and a richness of its own. It opens up for young Christians, since young people generally love adventure, the way to realize many satisfying experiences and makes life almost one continuous adventure. Learning to seek and wait for the guidance of the Lord in the daily tasks of life adds much to the happy and victorious Christian life.

Finally, the ideal of service, sacrificial service for others, for the Church of Christ, for the truth as it is in Christ Jesus must become a part of every believer. The Christian will not live to be ministered unto, but to minister. Whatever his work may be whereby he gains a livelihood, he will help to build up his home congregation, will contribute prayer and means to the organized work of the Church. Together with this he will give his testimony to the saving power of Christ by his daily living and also to the principles and doctrines of the Scriptures as professed by his church. The Christian school must inculcate in the young people these high standards of witnessing, service, loyalty, and devotion.

EASTERN MENNONITE SCHOOL

By Chester K. Lehman

In this, the fourteenth session of the Eastern Mennonite School, what sort of general description is desired? Having written a similar article a few years ago should I merely restate what was given at that time? Surely if there has been life and growth during this period the old article could not take the place of this one.

There are certain elements which are necessarily the same and it is the burden of the writer that they will find an integral place in every general survey that is given of the school. That the school is emphatically a Christian institution, that it is a denominational school actively defending and promulgating the articles of Faith and doctrinal standards of the Church, that the Scriptures occupy the preëminent place of authority both as textbook and standard for teaching, that Biblical missionary endeavor is fostered, that a full consecration is upheld—these objectives should ever be uppermost as ideals of the institution. God forbid that this institution should descend from its true denominational position to that of secular standards. If it does the school loses its right to exist.

Marks of Progress

Almost every year during the past decade one or more teachers have utilized summer vacations in further study and in this way have prepared themselves for more effective service. Last summer seven of the faculty attended summer school. It is an accepted maxim that as soon as a teacher ceases to grow, his usefulness dwindles. It may not be possible to set up a standard of measurement for spiritual growth by which to measure the faculty, but we trust that a development corresponding to the intellectual can be detected. Four members of the faculty are engaged in rural mission work, five carry ministerial responsibilities in the Church, and almost all of the others are occupied in the local Sunday school.

Another mark of progress is the building up of the school museum. Activity has been shown especially in the mounting of birds and animals. Some of the recent additions are a wild goose, wild turkey, American egret, fox squirrel, skunk, bobcat, and ruffled grouse. In the field work connected with the summer school he attended, Bro. Hostetter gathered a great wealth of botanical specimens, among which are some very rare ferns and orchids. Of particular value is the material secured in his work taken at the Cold Spring Harbor Laboratories. This material consists of fresh and salt water animals.

During the past year the Virginia State Board of Education, after an inspection of the College Department, rated it as a standard Junior College. Our graduates are thus enabled to enter the Junior year of any standard college that recognizes the standards of Virginia. This also makes it possible for us to launch the two-year normal course. The new, up-to-date, three-room, Park School serves as the training school, and it is interesting to observe the process of the making of school teachers.

In place of the frame structure, which served for physical training purposes, and which was destroyed last summer by storm, a new and large cement block building has been erected. A very noticeable improvement in the general health of the students has been observed since a specified amount of exercise has been required each week.

Some Teaching Opportunities

A church school affords most ideal opportunities for teaching young people certain lines of spiritual truth in which they stand in particular need during this critical stage of life.

One line of teaching we aim to impart through various channels is ethical in nature. Such all-important truths as that God is the author of right, that the right is inherently opposed to the wrong, that the conscience is a God-given faculty specialized to perceive and sense the right and wrong and to prompt to right action, that human nature is depraved and sinful, that the way out of a state and life of sin is through the redemptive work of Christ and the regenerative power of the Holy Spirit, that there is an obligation on the part of every individual to keep his conscience in tune with God's perfect standard, the Word, and to be sensitive to the leadings of the Holy Spirit, and that duty carries with it a genuine imperative. These truths can not be taught in one lesson, but they require time, thought, and prayer in order to be comprehended. It is a sad fact that too many people are children in ethical attainment. Children are forbidden certain courses of action without knowing the ethical principle involved. But as they pass from childhood to maturity there should be a progress in the nature of their obedience. An adult should be able to perceive whether or not a given course is right, and then follow his conviction to do the right by God's help.

Other spiritual truths of which young people stand especially in need, concern the Christian life. Is it possible for a Christian to know he is saved? How can one find reality in his prayer life? How can one live the overcoming life? These and other similar problems face the young Christian and the school aims to help him solve them.

Again, certain life problems must be settled by those about to take up the duties and responsibilities of life. What shall my life work be? In what vocations is it possible for a Christian to enter without jeopardizing his Christian life? What principles should guide one in the choice of a life companion? To the solution of these questions the school affords help.

Frequently students feel unsettled and unprotected against certian scientific theories, evolution in particular, and are seeking for light. It is gratifying that these fears and doubts can be dispelled by a study of true science. Evolution is rejected in this school because it is unscriptural. But this is not the only reason; it is not given credence also on account of its being unscientific and unphilosophical.

A Visit To A Few Class Rooms

We will first take a look into the freshmen Bible class taught by Bro. Wenger. The history and geography of the Old Testament is here given a rapid survey. From his travels in the Holy Land the instructor is enabled to picture the scenes of Bible history on the basis of first-hand information. The sophomore Bible class covers the geography and history of the New Testament.

The third year Bible course is called Bible Introduction. Bro. Stauffer loads this course brimming full with information about the Bible. When, by whom, where, and under what circumstances the Bible was written, how it was preserved to us through the past centuries and translated into our own language, why these books and not others compose the Scriptures—these and many other equally interesting topics are discussed. Bro. Stauffer also teaches the senior course, called Bible Doctrine. Here students get a glimpse of those great teachings of the Word concerning God, man, and man's destiny.

Through the Bible, book by book, is the method of most of Bro. Keener's classes. This is the surest method of gaining a comprehensive knowledge of God's Word.

A peep into Bro. Brackbill's room may reveal a blackboard covered with many marks understood only by the teacher and the mathematic students who are willing to venture with him into that sublime realm of knowledge. And then, all about us we see a vast array of apparatus which illustrates the wonders of light, sound, heat, mechanics, electricity, radium, and other physical phenomena. Bro. Brackbill also teaches bookkeeping, a course intensely practical and profitable to any one.

Room C brings to many students thoughts of Latin and Greek. Here Sister Kemrer holds sway and students get their first lessons in languages different from their mother tongue.

Prospective teachers meet in Room B, and there under the leadership of Bro. Daniel Lehman learn about the great business of teaching.

In two splendidly equipped laboratories for biology and chemistry respectively, Bro. Hostetter teaches these important sciences. No student leaves these laboratories without having gained a greater appreciation of God's creation and a greater reverence for the Creator.

Space permits only the mention of the English, German, and Philosophy classes taught by Bro. Gehman, the English taught by Sister Hartzler, the Algebra, Agriculture, and General Science taught by Bro. Gross, the Home Economics, Art, and Penmanship taught by Sister Stoltzfus, the English and History taught by Sister Harkins, the History taught by Bro. Brunk, and the Training School under the supervision of Sister Boyer.

THE CHURCHES IN THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST

By Oscar Burkholder

Many miles from most of our Mennonite settlements, and in a country that staggers the visitor with its vastness, and its consequent possibilities, there are located a number of congregations who are valiantly endeavoring to uphold the doctrines of the Bible both by precept and by example. That their task is difficult can best be realized by visiting them, but a few facts may help the reader to appreciate the stupendous task before them. This vast section is known as the Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and it is only a portion of a greater territory commonly known as the Canadian West. In these two provinces are located six congregations, namely: Guernsey, Sask., Acadia Valley, Duchess, High River, Carstairs, and Tofield, in Alberta. The two that are nearest each other are High River and Carstairs, and these two are sixty miles apart. Between these two congregations is located the growing city of Calgary. East one hundred miles from Calgary is Duchess and still farther northeast is Acadia Valley, and yet farther east and north, in Saskatchewan, seventy miles from Sasketoon, is Guernsey, while Tofield is located seventy miles east from Edmonton, which is nearly two hundred miles north of Calgary. While these distances may not seem so great a barrier to congregational intercourse, it must be taken into consideration that there are no paved roads in these two provinces outside the confines of the cities. There are several roads well gravelled, such as from Calgary to Edmonton, and from Calgary east to Winnipeg, Man., but this road is not yet completed. Sometimes the other roads, many of which are piked and hardened by travel, become impassable for a time from the rains, and consequently intercourse between congregations is not as frequent as would be good for their spiritual welfare.

The congregation first to be organized is located at Guernsey, Sask. It was organized in 1900 under the leadership of E. S. Hallman, who later was set apart as their bishop, and who now resides at Falfurrias, Texas. The next effort at organization took place in Alberta, when the Ontario Conference sent Bro. S. F. Coffman to that far-off field to render them assistance in this important work. At High River the Mount View church was organized, Norman Stauffer ordained as minister, and Abram Wambold as deacon. At Carstairs the West Zion congregation was organized, Israel Shantz was ordained as minister and Amos Weber as deacon. At Mayton the congregation was organized under the temporary leadership of John Lehman, who was afterward ordained to the ministry, and who now resides at Tofield. Nearly all the members at Mayton have moved to other congregations, so that there is no longer any definite work done there. At Youngstown another group settled, but because of drouth year after year, most of them have gone to other sections. All the above settlements were made by Canadians from the Ontario Conference district. About 1910 the Tofield congregation was organized under the able leadership of Bishop N. E. Roth, of Nebraska. Most of the settlers in this congregation came from the Nebraska field and from other western states. About 1915, or earlier, the Duchess congregation was organized by settlers from Pennsylvania, or other eastern states. Henry Ramer and his son, Clarence Ramer, are the ministers at this place, and another son, David Ramer, is the deacon. Duchess is located in the vast irrigation section of Central Alberta opened by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company some years ago. It is the only congregation so situated. In order that we may not become confused with the names and locations of some of these workers, we will give the names of all who are now living and active in these different congregations.

Guernsey, Sask.—M. H. Schmidt, bishop; Isaiah Rosenberger, minister; Aaron Biehn, deacon.

Acadia Valley—Supplied.

Tofield, Alberta—N. E. Roth, bishop; Milo Stutzman, John Lehman, ministers; J. E. Kauffman, deacon.

Carstairs, Alberta—H. J. Harder, Abram Reist, ministers; Norman Buschert, deacon.

Duchess, Alta.—Henry Ramer, Clarence Ramer, ministers; David Ramer, deacon.

High River, Alta.—Isaac Miller, bishop; Menno Gingrich, deacon.

Creston, Mont.—John G. Hochstetler, minister; John Oesch, deacon.

The Creston, Montana, Congregation is located in a valley between two ranges of the Rocky Mountains and some fifty miles south of the Canadian boundary and the province of British Columbia. It was formerly in the Pacific Coast Conference but because of the greater distance to the Coast congregations it was transferred to the Alberta-Saskatchewan Conference, of which several of the congregations are considerably nearer.

The Alberta-Saskatchewan Mennonite Conference was organized in the year 1903. Prior to this time it was included in the Ontario Conference. Since several thousand miles separate these two fields it was felt that it was the best plan under the circumstances, to form a new conference. Results have shown that this move was a wise one, and that the organizers were far-seeing in their judgment and vision. For immediately men came to the forefront who not only became well known throughout the Church, but whose ministry has left a lasting impression upon these western churches. It will be in order here to mention three men, and others could be added, who have made lasting contributions to the Lord's cause, and whose work will remain as long as memory lasts and records are kept and preserved. One is Norman Stauffer, of the High River Congregation, who has gone to be with his Lord. Another is N. E. Roth, who is known to most of his friends as Nick Roth, and Eli Hallman, who is now residing at Falfurrias, Texas. These men were among the trail-blazers of the early days in this western country, when one could stand on the prairie and look a hundred miles and see nothing but land, land, and more land. As in older sections of Canada, a remarkable change has taken place in the past thirty years, and while many marks of the pioneer days remain, one can see in the railway and bus systems, highways, the fine towns and cities, the convenient homes, farm buildings and machinery, the marks of modern progress.

The impressions the writer received while on his visit to this great open country last summer are many and varied. One must see to be really moved, and, consequently, as these impressions are recorded, it is to be hoped that the reader's heart and hands will be moved to include this great harvest field in his prayer list, as well as any other activity in which he may be engaged.

The first impression one receives is the sparsity of this vast area's population. There is elbow room in the west. And especially is this true of churches and their activities, for, with the possible exception of the large centres, such as Calgary and Edmonton, the country is not over-churched as in many places in the East. It is true, that, upon entering a small town, one thinks there are too many church buildings, but when one considers the distance to the next town and the many farmers in the surrounding vicinity, for this is the main business of the West, one is made to wonder what would happen if, some time, every one would decide to attend services in these same church buildings, for they are all very limited in their accommodation. This leads us to a second impression.

So very many people in the West do not go to Church. In the summer time they are too busy, and in the winter time the weather is too severe, they say. Besides, since the radio has come, it is frequently stated that it is all that is necessary by way of satisfying their craving, if any, for religious instruction. But it is very evident that there is a prevailing materialistic, almost fatalistic, attitude towards everything Christian, pervading the minds of the people. Just what has happened, in the aggregate, to bring about such a condition may not be easily seen, but the writer knows of quite a number who left the east for the west, and when they left they seemed to be warm-hearted and true-hearted believers. As one meets them on their 1000 or 2000 acre farms it must be admitted that the friends of other years have departed and some one, or some thing, else has taken residence in their body which may still be familiar in appearance. It would seem as if trust in God were exchanged for trust in a country that has, seemingly, a limitless expanse and numberless opportunities. However, one meets many warm-hearted believers full of concern for the Lord's work.

Another impression, and one that is worthy of our copying, is the open-handedness, or help-your-neighbor spirit, that seems to prevail among all classes of people. The reserve of the East is broken down and lost. The neighborly greeting and standing offer of helpfulness is characteristic of whomsoever one meets. There is a sameness about their manner of living, the furnishings of their homes, the attitudes towards neighbors and others' welfare that is sadly lacking in older settled communities. One wonders what might really transpire by way of Christian evangelism and spiritual power if it were more general to be Christian than it is to be affiliated with Christian activities.

Other impressions might be recorded. Perhaps these will suffice to give the reader a glimpse of this great land of opportunity and service. But let it be remembered that, while Alberta is nicknamed "Sunny Alberta" the same manifestations of hardship, disappointment, discouragement, and disaster are found there as anywhere else. The faithful brethren and sisters of this field, in the Master's great harvest field, need our support and confidence in their great work. Let us not think that they are too far away. Distance is not the barrier it was at one time. There are many more people in the West than there were thirty years ago. The Alberta-Saskatchewan Conference now numbers over 500 members, and if faithful aggressive work is continued, there is no reason why many of us should not live to see the number doubled, and new places organized for the preaching of the Gospel which we so dearly love.

Breslau, Ont.

There are three types of Christians who respond to the call of service:

1. Rowboat Christians—have to be pushed wherever they go.

2. Sailboat Christians — always go with the wind.

3. Steamboat Christians—make up their minds where they ought to go regardless of wind or weather.—Bulletin First Christian Church, Muskogee, Okla.

A NEW YEAR'S MEDITATION

O soul of mine, be strong,
Make this a glad new year,
And life one grand sweet song,
Some other life to cheer;
No time hast thou to dream
Or waste life's precious hour—
While borne upon life's stream,
Waste not thy manly dower.

Amid life's busy din,
O soul, think not of rest;
Great battles thou must win,
Make this new year thy best.
O soul of mine, be strong,
Let noble passion sway,
And love's triumphant song
Make glad each passing day.

O soul of mine, be glad
For victories thou shalt win,
No hour should e'er be said,
In conquest over sin.
And should the storm at sea
Toss thee on billowy breast,
Let him that stilled the Galilee
Speak words of peace and rest.

O soul of mine, be strong,
Make brave and noble fight,
'Gainst giant forces of the wrong,
Stand forth for truth and right;
May no dark hour betide,
When stilled the victor's song,
Or peace of God cease to abide
This glad new year, be strong!

WITH OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

By Milo Kauffman

Much interest is being taken to-day in our young people. Some think that this is a new tendency and will usher in a new age. But we must not forget that each generation has been interested in its young people. Early in the history of Israel we see this interest manifested. The Israelites realized, perhaps as keenly as we, that the future of the nation depended upon the training of the youth. The Greeks showed this interest in youth. Each generation has done its best to solve the problems facing youth, but methods of expressing this interest have varied, perhaps with each generation. The Puritans, because they used such severe discipline, were no less interested in youth than are we. That very discipline itself was an expression of their concern. A few generations hence our generation will perhaps be severely criticized for its lack of concern in its young people by giving them practically unlimited freedom. Some leaders are altogether too optimistic concerning modern attitudes toward youth and methods used in the training of youth. These are by no means lasting attitudes and methods. The next generation will call for new ones. There is a tendency for one generation to adopt certain methods, the next generation runs them in the ground, and the third, if it prospers, must adopt new ones.

The future of civilization and the Church does depend upon our youth. It is a fact that in guiding the development of youth we are shaping the civilization and the Church of the future. This fact, however, should not blind us to everything but youth. It is a big mistake to neglect adults in our enthusiasm for youth. Adults are the ones who are influencing the youth of our land. If the lambs are to grow the sheep must be fed and cared for. One big mistake of our modern program, is, I feel, the neglect of and apparent lack of appreciation for our older people, in our zeal for the youth. Consequently there is in some places a feeling of resentment, a lack of coöperation, a feeling of distance between old and young, and a sour spirit generally. Train youth as we will it cannot develop real Christian character under such environment. Lack of sympathy between old and young furnishes poor ground in which to sow seeds of Christian principles. A program that takes account of the young people alone will fail to produce a Christian generation. Our program must provide for shepherding of old and young alike. Christ started His program with the adults, but was sympathetic toward the young. He twice told Peter to feed, tend, His sheep, once to feed His lambs. Proper care for the sheep is essential to proper care of the lambs.

"'Twas a sheep, not a lamb, that strayed away
In the parable Jesus told;
A grown-up that had gone astray,
From the ninety and nine in the fold.

"Out on the hillside, out in the cold,
'Twas a sheep the Good Shepherd sought;
And back to the flock, safe into the fold,
'Twas a sheep the Good Shepherd brought.

"And why for the sheep should we earnestly long,
And as earnestly hope and pray?
Because there is danger, if they go wrong,
They will lead the lambs astray.

"For the lambs will follow the sheep you know,
Wherever the sheep may stray;
When the sheep go wrong, it will not be long
'Till the lambs are as wrong as they.

"And so with the sheep we earnestly plead,
For the sake of the lambs to-day,
If the lambs are lost, what a terrible cost
Some sheep will have to pay."

Much has been done for our young people during the last generation. The youth of to-day have many advantages which our fathers did not have. They have increased educational advantages and added opportunities for service. No effort or amount of money has been considered too great to be expended for the welfare of the rising generation.

What is true in general is also true in the Mennonite Church. Our Mennonite young people have privileges and advantages for which they should not cease to be grateful. In practically every Mennonite community we find a Sunday school and Young People's Meeting. Many communities have Sunday school conferences, missionary conferences, mission study classes, teacher training classes, midweek prayer meetings, etc.

Some of our leaders with vision, and with hearts warm with concern, have been instrumental by their labors and sacrifices in establishing three Mennonite schools where our young people, under the advantages of Mennonite influence, may receive their preparation for service. These leaders were not blind to the dangers of such schools, but they were also aware of the inevitable catastrophe impending without church schools. At present approximately five hundred of our young people are enjoying the blessings of these schools, and each year the number of those benefited by the schools is increased.

The Special Bible Terms are the result of the concern of other leaders who have seen the need of Bible instruction for those so situated that they could not attend our schools. Consequently scores of our young people enjoy the fellowship of other Christian young people and enlarge their store of Bible knowledge during a few weeks of the winter months.

In the last few years some have seen the opportunity of strengthening the loyalty, extending the fellowship, and promoting the spirit of service through the Young People's Institutes. In the short life of the Institute we believe it has proved a blessing to many young people and to the Church. If properly conducted, we believe the Institute has a real place in the future of our church activities. The Church has not lacked laeders who have seen the needs of the young people and the opportunities of supplying the needs.

Opportunities for service have gone hand in hand with the educational advantages. Hundreds of young people throughout the church are teaching Sunday school classes; doing Christian work in missions, jails, hospitals, etc.; doing personal work and taking part in endowment programs. Their noble response contributes to a hopeful outlook for the work of the Church in the coming generation.

Provision is also being made for the social life of our young people. Literary societies under sound leadership are providing helpful social contacts. The activities mentioned above all contribute in meeting the needs of our young people in this phase of life.

What kind of program do we need for the future well-being of our young people and the Church? In the first place we need a program that will assure the hearty coöperation of our older people. We need a program that will minister to the spiritual needs of the old as well as those of youth. To neglect the spiritual well-being of the old is to lose out in our program with the young. To fail to enlist the coöperation of the old is an inexcusable weakness in any program. The spiritual life of the youth depends upon the spiritual condition of the old. We must insist upon and provide for a spiritual leadership for the young. There must be a continued emphasis upon the preparation for service and the opportunity for service.

The details of a church program of activities can not remain the same, much as we may try to avoid a change. Changing conditions demand changing programs. New occasions and conditions do not adapt themselves to existing programs. Efficient programs must adapt themselves to existing conditions. The automobile has not come because of the filling stations. The filling stations have come because of the demand. The conditions and needs must be considered in the formation of the program of each generation.

Tremendous changes have taken place in the last few decades which will demand new emphases and new methods. The problem of the use of leisure time now confronts and demands attention. There is not enough work to keep every one busy during the hours of the entire day. With modern machinery it takes only a limited number of hours of the day to do the world's work. It used to take about three hours of work to produce a bushel of wheat, now it can be done with ten minutes' work. One man with a machine can do in a day what it used to take a dozen men weeks to do. This gives us much leisure time and creates a situation that the Church must take into account if it will do its duty to its young people and to the advancement of Christ's kingdom. In many places it is already found necessary to supervise this leisure time. The recreational and avocational interests must be organized and guided or leisure time will play havoc. It will lead to evil influences that will counteract all the good influences that the home and the Church may bring to bear upon the young people. Complaining and fussing about a situation will not better it. We must meet a situation as it is and not as we think it should be. Efforts must be made to rightly utilize leisure time. Instead of complaining about the way time is used, we must offer something better. If the Church could secure and utilize the time and money spent during the leisure time of its members it would go far toward the development of the moral and spiritual life of the young people and the evangelization of the world.

THE PEACE PROBLEMS COMMITTEE

By Orie O. Miller

The Peace Problems Committee is at present composed of six members—three each from the United States and Canada. All of its members receive their appointment at our biennial General Conference. The Committee first came into being at the 1917 Yellow Creek, Indiana, General Conference. It then had a membership of three and was specifically charged with the duty of representing the Church to the Government in all the various problems arising out of our nonresistant position in the time of the World War. During 1917 and 1918 the Committee maintained constant contact with the War Department in Washington and with our Mennonite young men in the various concentration camps. Brethren Aaron Loucks, Elias L. Frey, D. D,

Miller and others spent a great deal of time traveling from camp to camp and to the several military headquarters, straightening out and endeavoring to untangle difficulties in which our young men found themselves. Many of these brethren will gratefully cherish during the rest of their lifetime, what this help meant to them in their hour of urgent need and hopelessness.

With the War's close this particular function of the Committee naturally ceased. However, the Committee continued its interest in immediate post-war events and in the boys until the last of them were back from their farm furlough, or the Friends' Reconstruction work in France, or from Leavenworth. During this period the Committee also sponsored a petition to Washington signed by 20,400 of our membership which again stated our position on the question of War and especially as regards our attitude towards compulsory military service, which question was much discussed then during development of the 1920 Defense Act.

By 1923 there was quite general agreement among our leadership that a General Peace Problems Committee had peace-time as well as war-time functions. It has become generally felt that if we expect respectful hearing and special consideration for our belief in war times when stress, excitement, strain, and passion rule, it is our duty in times of peace to keep before our governments and other peoples about us a constant and intelligent testimony to our faith and practice as regards this doctrine. This led the 1923 Eureka General Conference to designate this as one of the Conference's standing committees and to its enlargement and organization as constituted at present.

Since 1923 the Committee has been evolving and clarifying these proper peace-time functions. In 1924 what has become known as our three-point program was adopted as a basis of working policy. This as reported to and approved by the 1925 Conference was:

1. To encourage efforts among our own people which will lead to a clearer understanding of, and a deeper conviction in, our own belief in the doctrine of nonresistance.

2. To represent the Church and her position on this doctrine before any departments of our state, provincial and national governments which have to do with legislation or the enforcement of legislation affecting our status as nonresistant citizens and to encourage officials, wherever possible, in a wider application of the policy of good will rather than that of force of war.

3. To keep before other individuals, groups, denominations, and associations, who may be seeking more light along these lines, the Gospel interpretation and application of this doctrine.

Since then the Committee's efforts have continued along these basic lines.

The Committee maintains no official contact or relationship with any other peace movement or organization. It does, however, aim to keep informed as to outstanding developments in the search, strivings, and efforts of the component parts, both secular and religious, of what is known as to-day's peace movement. This study not only enables a constant evaluation of the movement to our own constituency in the light of our own faith, but presents numerous opportunities for effective witness to the truth of this faith and its implications to the multitudes who are to-day searching for the ways of peace.

Any cursory study of present-day happenings in national and international governmental affairs, reveals something of the philosophy back of to-day's militarist and anti militarist or pacifist movements. The League of Nations, the World Court, the Pan-American Union, the Kellogg Pact, peace education within our own country's educational organizations on the one hand; failure of international armament reduction conferences and programs, the cry for security through military alliances, growing militarism in our public high schools and colleges in our own country on the other; are products of these divergent philosophies. At times and occasions that seem auspicious and appropriate the Committee endeavors to testify to the truth of a peace which through Christ Jesus alone can attain full fruition. We likewise aim to keep those in authority informed as to the implications of proposed legislation on our own practice of having no personal part in war.

Within our own constituency the Committee recognizes as strategic the influence on the coming generation of our church schools, and encourages active organizations within these schools for the maintenance and propagation of our historic testimony. Through these units an effort is being made to challenge our Mennonite public school teachers to their opportunities in this cause. The Committee carries forward its program of testimony and endeavors to give peace teaching within the Church in various other ways as in Sunday School Conferences, Young People's Institutes, through the Young People's Meeting Program Committee, etc. However, probably its present major concern is in seeing that there is built up a larger body of sound peace literature.

Such in brief have been a few of the main avenues of effort since 1923. Actual accomplishments compared with opportunity make the former seem meager indeed. The Committee feels that the Lord has blessed and is blessing the feeble efforts. It has become the growing conviction of all its present membership that the field of service has boundless possibilities and that there is a crying need, which we as a Christian group with a priceless heritage in faith, testimony, and practice, do well to meet.

The bulk of the Committee's financial support comes from about forty Sunday schools who give to this work one regular offering each year. The support of this work financially and in encouragement otherwise, indicates continued growth and interest in this field of church activity and confirms the Committee in its own convictions.

PROPER CURIOSITY

A great deal has been said against curiosity. Early traditions, legends, and stories are full of warnings of its dangers. Bluebeard's wife, Paul Pry, and Peeping Tom are held up as examples to be shunned. The Norse legends tell of a woman who rashly disturbed the grave of a hero to obtain his sword and was consumed by the flames which surrounded the enchanted blade. As a rule, parents warn their children against too great a desire to know "the why and the wherefore" of everything.

Yet the world owes much to its curious people. Curiosity has sent into adventurous enterprises a long succession of travelers, from Marco Polo and Columbus to Perry and Lindbergh.

There is, however, no curiosity that brings such blessings as that shown by Zacchaeus when he "sought to see Jesus." It is sad to see men and women so curious about trivial matters and so careless in regard to the salvation of their souls.—Westminster Teacher.

MANIFESTATIONS OF CHRIST'S HUMILITY

1. Birth in human form (II Cor. 8:9). Though rich, poor.
2. Subject to parents (Luke 2:51; Col. 3:20).
3. Entering Jerusalem (Matt. 21:5).
4. Washing the disciples' feet (John 13:13, 14).
5. Eating with sinners (Matt. 9:10, 11).
6. Dying a cruel and shameful death (Phil. 2:8).—The King's Message.

"Have faith in God."

MY DAILY CREED

Let me be a little kinder,
Let me be a little blinder,
To the faults of those about me;
Let me praise a little more;
Let me be when I am weary
Just a little bit more cheery,
Let me serve a little better
Those I am striving for.

Let me be a little braver
When temptation bids me waver,
Let me strive a little harder
To be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker
With the brother that is weaker,
Let me think more of my neighbor
And a little less of ME.

MENNONITE PUBLISHING HOUSE

A Brief Sketch of the Work as Carried on at Scottdale, Pa.

By Aaron Loucks

The purpose of this article is to give a summary of the publication work which was begun at Scottdale, Pa., in 1904. At a meeting of the Mennonite Book and Tract Society in 1903 Bro. A. D. Martin was elected secretary of that organization. He succeeded Bro. John W. Weaver, Union Grove, Pa., to the position. The Society was engaged in distributing tracts and selling Bibles and religious books. In 1904 Bro. Martin issued a catalog advertising books and tracts handled by the Society.

In the fall of 1904 a number of brethren from various sections of the country, east and west, who were attending the Church Conference at Masontown, Pa., between sessions informally discussed the question of church publications.

The following year, April 5, 1905, the first issue of the Gospel Witness appeared. It was published by the Gospel Witness Co., composed of a number of brethren who assumed the financial responsibility involved in the venture. The new paper, Gospel Witness, found a welcome in many homes and at the end of the first year had a bona fide subscription list of two thousand names.

In 1907 nine conferences took steps looking forward to the organization of the publication interests of the Church by appointing representatives to act conjointly as a committee to consider the question of church ownership of her publications. On Nov. 7, 1907, this committee met at Goshen, Ind., and organized. The question came before the General Conference held near Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 13, 14, 1907. The following action was taken: "We . . . place ourselves on record as favoring the movement of church ownership of publishing interests." On motion the Conference appointed three members to represent the General Conference on the committee.

These representatives, with others appointed later, met Jan. 8, 1908, and effected the organization known as the Mennonite Publication Board. Propositions were received from the Mennonite Publishing Co., Elkhart, Ind., and the Gospel Witness Co., and the Mennonite Book and Tract Society both of Scottdale, Pa. The Board at once began negotiations with the above-named parties, finally arriving at an amicable agreement, March 27, 1908, by which the church periodicals owned by the Mennonite Publishing Co., the periodicals of the Gospel Witness Co., and the book business of the Mennonite Book and Tract Society were merged under the Mennonite Publication Board.

The two organizations last named were discontinued, and the business thereafter was conducted in the name of the Mennonite Publishing House, located at Scottdale, Pa. From this time forward the business of the Mennonite Publishing House expanded rapidly until at present the assets of the Publication Board total $278,480.00, as set forth in the last annual report, May 1, 1930.

In 1914 the Board purchased real estate consisting of four lots, a two-story frame building, 30 by 70 feet, and a three-story brick building, 40 by 70 feet, for $23,000.00. In August, 1920, by action of the Publication Board a new building was authorized which we now occupy. It is a tile building, 80 by 110 feet, three stories above the basement, steel frame, fireproof, and it is so arranged that it will be many years before the business will need additional room. We now occupy the basement and the first two floors above. The third story contains nine five-room apartments, which yield a revenue of about $2500.00 a year. The rents from the two old buildings also amount to about $2500.00 a year.

Sister Ella Bayman of Lancaster County was the first of the workers called by death. Bro. A. D. Martin, who was a leading spirit in launching the institution, died Jan. 19, 1913. Later Sister Alice Bucher of Lancaster County; and Bro. M. K. Smoker, one of the first workers, and Bro. Martin R. Loucks were called by death.

We have endeavored to serve the Church by sending out literature that will be upbuilding and strengthening to those whom we reach and thus extend the borders of the kingdom of Christ. We employ about thirty-five workers at present. The spirit of sacrifice and loyal service is manifested on the part of the workers. We are appreciative too of the patronage and good will of the brotherhood in the loyal support they have furnished, both for the financial and spiritual needs of the Cause.

The publications sent out at present are: Gospel Herald, Christian Monitor, Youth's Christian Companion, Words of Cheer, Beams of Light, The Way, Teachers' Lesson Quarterly, Advanced Lesson Quarterly, Junior Teachers' Quarterly, Junior-Intermediate Quarterly, Primary Lesson Quarterly, German Lektionsheft, Picture Cards, English and German Almanac, Mennonite Year Book and Directory, Tracts, etc.

We also send out regularly eight periodicals that are printed as jobs: Bi-weekly, semi-monthly, monthly, bimonthly, and quarterly, aggregating about 600 pages per quarter.

We are also constantly printing and binding books for our trade. Perhaps foremost among these are hymn books used throughout the Church, music edition, and hymn books of the various kinds used by other branches of the Church, word editions, both in the German and English language. The largest work of this kind is the "Gesangbuch" used by the Old Colony Mennonites and others in Canada, Mexico, and Paraguay. An edition of 7000 was printed a few years ago and has had a large sale. Church histories, family histories, biographical works, and religious books are also published from time to time.

THE FIGURES ARE TRUE

The Daily Telegraph of Harrisburg, Pa., recently published the fact that 35,000,000 copies of the Bible were sold in 1929, and thereupon received an anonymous letter saying, "Why do you fill up your newspaper with such bunk as this? Any well informed person knows this is untrue." To which the Telegraph, excusing itself for noticing an anonymous communication, replied editorially:

"The figures are correct. . . . Unfortunately those who choose to condemn the Bible are not searchers for truth, else they would realize with one reading that this book is the most human document ever compiled and the best guide for life ever penned. Nothing makes opponents of Bible teaching so wrathy as to be told that, despite their efforts to destroy its usefulness, it continues to grow in popularity. It is too vital a book, too strong in its own right, to need any defense here. It has withstood many storms. It will withstand many more. The more it is attacked, the more powerful becomes its influence. It is a matter of history that in times of persecution it has flourished most and has been most influential in the lives of men. The figures noted are true. Their accuracy may be easily ascertained. That's about all that need be said on the subject."—Parish Publicity Service.

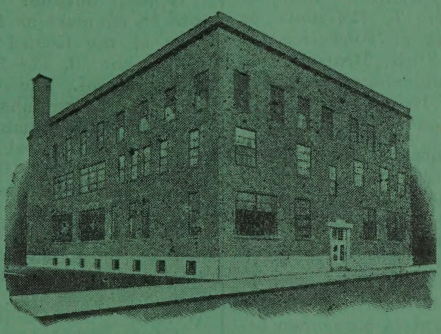
YOUR OPPORTUNITY

to render a personal service in the work of a Church Institution may never be opened to you but there may be ways and means at your command which have been unnoticed. The work of the Mennonite Publishing House has been made possible through a consistent financial program carried out by the assistance given thruout the Church by individuals. This service can be extended to others and you are invited to have a share in it. Please note the following suggestions.

ANNUITIES

This form of donation is appealing to many of our people. A certain rate of interest is paid on the donation as long as the donor lives. After death the interest is discontinued and the principal is in the hands of the institution. It provides a safe investment. The interest is paid every six months. No state or inheritance tax can be collected from it. The donor becomes his own administrator of his estate.

The Gospel Herald and Christian Monitor Annuities are being continued. $30.00 pays for the Gospel Herald for a life time. $20.00 pays for the Christian Monitor.



DONATIONS

Further development of the work will be greatly enhanced by the assistance that is given in the form of donations. The possibilities for the spread of Gospel Truths are increasing as the years go by and the printing industry is developed. Millions of pages of printed matter are being circulated thru our present equipment. The possibility of increasing this circulation is ever before us. If you cannot make your donation now, a bequest in your will can easily be arranged. An opportunity for real service in the cause of the Master is open to those who have financial means at their command.

LOANS

Until the present liabilities are cancelled by either of the above forms or through the profits of the work of the Institution the loan department will be open to our people. While the original loans were sufficient to cover all indebtedness, there are constant changes through the calling of these loans made to the House. As these calls are satisfied, they are replaced with other loans. We thus have a sort of banking arrangement. Money is received as needed in any amount not less than $100.00. Thirty days notice is required to withdraw it. The interest is paid annually. Notes are written for one year and automatically renew as the interest is paid.

TWO NEW BOOKS

By Mennonite Authors

THE PREDICTED DEPARTURE FROM THE FAITH

By Oscar Burkholder

Purpose.—To present a message on the signs of apostasy and the responsibility connected with backsliding from Christian experience.

Contents.—The book is divided into 12 chapters: 1. What is it? 2. The Beginning, 3. Some Causes, 4. Some other Causes, 5. Misconception of Sin, 6. Growing into Grace, 7. Religious or Christian, 8. The Cry of Toleration, 9. Supplanting Faith with Reason, 10. Joining World Organizations to make them better, 11. Believing without Works, 12. Adaptation or Application.

The author is a firm believer in the fact that our heavenly Father is able to keep all who put their trust and confidence in Him, yet he says it is evident on every hand that there is a departure from the faith. He further states, there are many who apparently begin well in the Christian Life, but because of the terrific pressure brought to bear upon believers in these last days, they gradually yield to sinister influences, to their own suffering and spiritual destruction.

Every faithful child of God deplores such a condition. Once alive to its seriousness and its destructiveness in the Church, there will be more real wrestling with God for the preservation of the faithful ones, and the return of the unfaithful. It is in this hope that the author places this message before the reading public.

The book is especially adapted to young believers, but it will be read with equal interest by all believers and should find a place in every Christian home. It is neatly bound in stiff cloth binding, and contains 160 pages.
